Polling Places in New York and Brooklyn.

Although the election which will engage the attention of the citizens of the State of New York today, "from the rising of the sun until the going down thereof," promises to be dull in comparison with that of the previous year, when the whole nation was interested and important principles were at stake, the jarring elements of the democracy in this city, the secret intrigues of cliques and parties, and the struggle of the workingmen to obtain place and power for their better protection, will undoubtedly create considerable excitement. The leaders of the great democratic party, who rule this city and direct the legislation of the State, are fully alive to the importance of rolling up such a majority in Manhattan as will outweigh the rural wote, the possession of the State offices being a sind gud non in view of the coming war for the Presi-dential succession in 1872. Although, therefore, the contest may not be so bitter as the last, it is certain to be exciting. The struggle for a majority in the next Legislature will be severe; but there can hardly be any doubt that Tammany will succeed in electing her five Senators from this city, and nearly all her candidates for Assembly. There will be a scramble for the county offices, but Tammany will very likely succeed in electing all except her candidate for Coroner. The workingmen's candidate, Nelson W. Young, will probably secure this prize. An amendment to the State constitution will also be voted on, and electors will have an opporfunity of determining by their votes to-day whether the judiciary article shall be submitted to the people

We give below all necessary information for the guidance of voters, including all who have a right to vote, the duties of Inspectors of Election, instructions to the police, the politing places, &c.

The New Constitution. The public notice Issued from the office of the Secretary of State calls the attention of inspectors of election and county canvassers to chapter 318, o the laws of 1859, entitled "An act to provide for submitting the amended constitution to the electors of mitting the amended constitution to the electors of the State," passed April 24, 1920, pursuant to which the amended constitution proposed by the Constitutional Convention, which closed its sittings February 28, 1868, will be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, at the said general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November next, and at such election cach elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against the amended constitution except the indicary article, or for or against the judiciary article, or for or against the judiciary article, or for or against the property and for or against the property qualification for colored men.

Who Have a Right to Vete ?

Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for ten days and an inhabitant of this state one year next preceeding any election, and for the last lour months a restuent of the county where he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be effective by the people; but sme citizens shall have been for thirty days next preceding the election a resident of the district from which the officer is to be chosen for whom he offers his vote.

The restriction for colored persons requires that they shall have been citizens of the starte for three years and for on eyear previous to any ciection, possessed of a freezing estate to the value of $250 over and above all debts and encumbrances and shall have nettaily paid a tax thereon.

If requires a residence of tairty days in an assembly district to enables for passas to yote for an assemblyman. He may, however, vote for State officers as they do not specially represent a district. No man can vote who has been convicted or any crime punishable with death or unprisonment in the State Prison, unless he shall have been pardoned and fully restored to citizenship, nor if he is interested in any sets on the election, nor unless his name is duly registered.

Temporary absence abroad or in another State in employment of the government is no disqualification.

The DUTY OF INSPECTORS TO RECEIVE CHALLENGER

THE DUTY OF INSPECTORS TO RECEIVE CHALLENGED

The inspectors are directed by the statute in case a man is challenged to administer the following oath, known as the "preliminary oath":—
You do awear (or aliram) that you will fully and truly snawer all such questions as shall be put to you, touching your place of readence and qualifications as an electron.

or the take the oath, then the inspectors Shall interregate every such person as to his qualifications to vote under the giveent constitution.

to vote under the present constitution.

Asking him:—

All such questions as may tend to test the qualifications of the person challenged as to being a resident of the town and ward, clittenship and right for vote at the poll.

Under these instructions the inspectors may ask a challenged voter if he has been in the country five years, if he got out his first papers, or if he procured the naturalization papers he presents himself from the proper court, or any other question relating to the fact of citizenship. If a person challenged refuse to answer any question touching his right to vote his vote must be rejected. And if he answer all the questions and the challenge is persisted in the greeneral outh? must be administered, which is as follows:—

You do swear (or affirm) that you have been a citizen of the United States for ten days and are now of the age of twenty-one years; that you have been an inhabitant of this State for one year next preceding this election, and for the last four months a resident of this county; that you have been for thirty days a resident of this Coupressional or Assembly distinct or ward (if a voter does not cann to vote for Congressional or Assembly and or ward officers this may be omitted) and of the election district in which you now offer to vote, and that you have not made any bet or wager and are not directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of this election, and that you have not this election.

If the person challenged refused to take this outh.

If the person challenged refused to take this eath his vote must be rejected. But if by his answer to the questions put to him he plainly shows to the inspectors that he is not entitled to vote, either by reason of not being a resident of the country or State or the United States for the required term, or for any other reason then, although the person challenged be registered and take both oaths, the hispector who take his vote commits a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment, for which the following statutory provision is made:—

In case any inspector, of election shall knowledge and will

In case any inspector of election shall knowingly and wil-fully permit or suffer any person to vote at any election who is not entitled to vote thereat, the said inspector shall, on conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and be imprisoned in the county july for six months,

Votes received contrary to the above provision are fraudulent, and will vittate an election.

The Police Regulations. While there is no reason to apprehend a breach of the peace in any of the districts of the city to-day the arrangements made by the Superintendent of Police are such as will prevent the possibility of unseemly disturbance at the polls, and will, therefore, be heartily supported by the citizens. These very precise and particular orders have been issued by the superintendent to the different captains of precincts, and are given below:—

Pool Seiling on the Election.
Dr. Johnson sold pools on the election last night at Reilly's restaurant. There was quite a crowd of politicians present, but the great majority of them refrained from taking an active part in the betting, and contented themselves with looking on and and contented memeryes with footing on and appeculating upon the probable results of the election. The best pools sold were five or six, which brought sige! $250 against Nelson $250, allowing the latter 15,000 majority. Allowing Nelson 10,000 he brought $100 even against Sige!. Several pools were sold on Greeley and Sige! as to who would lead their ticket. The betting was even in the large pools; but in the small ones, which sold for $25, Greeley was the favorite.

LOCAL POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

Moses H. Grinnell is out in a card, in which he denies that he ever signed a paper endorsing John Foley as candidate for the supervisorship, but says, Foley as candidate for the supervisorship, but says, "I signed a paper recommending Mr. Foley as an undependent Democratic Union candidate for Senator for the Eighth district, and nothing else."

The French residents of this city heid their last meeting before election day last night, in Sixth avenue. In the absence of Mr. Delanoy, Mr. Lewis C. Rochester was called to the chair. The greatest entausuasin prevailed, and the meeting adjourned, piedding themselves once more to vote to-day for Messrs, Jacob Cohen and Nelson W. Young.

The Executive Committee, which is to assume charge of the interests of the party in the election to-day, held a meeting yesterday at two o'clock, in which anothing turther was transacted than the appointing of independent inspectors of election, the appropriation of money and the distribution of tickets.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT AT CAPE HATTEN.

The Fight Between Haytien War Vessels and the Rebel Craisers.

We have received from a high officer of the Hay-tien navy the following communication, which he declares to be a true account of the naval engage-then havy the following communication, which he declares to be a true account of the naval engagement at Cape Hayti:

On the moraing of the 5th of October the Haytien men-of-war Sainave and Al Pétion met the rebet crusers, Florida and quaker City, a few miles to the westward of Cape Hayti. The Sainave, not seeing any colors on the rebet vessels, fired first a blank carridge and then a 100-pound shell, and then kept off to fire a broadside, when the quaker City kept away with the intention of running into the Sainave. She succeeded in doing this without doing any material damage, her shell going at the same time clear over the Sainave, while this vessel's broadside went right through her. The Quaker City then backed out and run. The Petion, in the meantime, engaged the Florida, exploded one 100-pound shell on her deck, killing eighteen and wounding about twenty men, and completely demoralizing the Florida's crew. The Sainave started in pursuit of the Quaker City and Florida, but not seeing the Petion following came back and found her disabled, towed her into Cape Hayti, then started out after the rebet vessels, and chased them into St. Marks. The iron-clad Atlanta will leave Philadelphia in a few days, and will fully establish the supremacy of the government in those waters.

THE HAYTIEN WAR VESSELS.

The Shamokin and Algonquin, purchased from the United States government by Thomas Ciyffe, are supposed to be intended for the Haytien rebels. The onquin is now receiving a full naval equipment, Algondain is now receiving a fair havai equipment, with the exception of guns, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and the Snamokin is at Washington. General Laroche has, it is understood, taken steps to have the vessels detained when ready for sea. The Algondain was, it will be remembered, purchased and returned by Sainave's government, and afterwards bought by Ulyfie for $30,000. Clyfie is an old schoolmate of Admirai Porter.

At five o'clock last night a fire broke out in the newspaper stand of David Burns, on Palisade avenuc, Youkers. The damage was very slight, proba-bly not more than $30. Mr. Burns is insured in the Home Insurance Company of Yonkers.

AMUSEMENTS. NIBLO'S GARDEN.-The inimitable commedienne,

Lotta, opened her engagement last night to a grand mass meeting—yea, a delighted multitude—in John Brougham's astonishing drama, in four acts, from Dicken's "Curiosity Shop, entitled "Little Nell and the Marchieness," introducing Lotta's specialties of banjo solos, clog dances, jigs and songs. There are twenty-four of Dickens' sharply defined and extravatwenty-four of Dickens' sharply defined and extravagantly natural characters in this play, with as great a mixture of curiosities and varieties as was ever crammed into a four act extravaganza. And there are, withai, sufficient plot, method, goodness, devility and scheming rascality in the plot to make its development exceedingly interesting from the opening to the end. There is no hagging of drugging in the rapidly changing scenes and situations; but its a stirring, lively, wideawake, languable, sympathetic and unusing one down gother on throughout. Little Nell and the Marchioness, two characters as widely separated as the little Angel and Topsy of "Uncle Tom's cabia," are each so well given by Lota that it is difficult to say in which she most excels. Dick Swiveller, by Vincent, is a capital impersonation of a sort of rough diamond. Old Grandfather Trent, by Mr. Bradiey, is a good rendering, we should say, of the servile and doing old man of Dickens. Daniel Quip, by Coleman, is a fine and well maintained representation of the leading villain, doubled up, but active, as he is required to be in his difficult role of rascality. Mrs. Quilp, by Miss Kate Newton, is a pleasing character, from its contrast with her Black Crook, her ford and master. Mrs. Bradshaw, the Keeper of the wax works, is calculated to draw at the fair. Indeed, there was that generous rivalry among all the performers to make a nit, which never fails of success. They were all up in their parts, and if, with a half dozen exceptions, there was nothing required but dash and activity, there was nothing required but dash and activity, there was smicloint activity and dash to bring down the house in an almost continuous round of applause, broken only by explosions of laughter. The particular feature of the drama is the stunning Enrish country fair, with its peculiar shows and amusements, including Morris dinecers, wax works, it is not, this play is a regular curiosity, which will surely if it highly be developed to the drama is the stunning Enrish co gantly natural characters in this play, with as grea was inaugurated at this establishment last evening with Tom Taylor's popular comedy of "Still Waters Run Deep," which was given upon this occasion for the first time thus season. The piece was strongly cast and appropriately mounted, and was, with but cast and appropriately mounted, and was, with but very few exceptions, capitally enacted. Mr. J. W. Wallack sustained the role of John Mildmay with all His customary grace and ease, and was supported by Mr. C. Wyndam as Capitali Hawksley, who, however, did not quite come up to the mark. His great fault last evening was the endeavor to infose into the character which he personated a spasmodic sort of action, which, to our idea of it, was not exactly what its author originally intended. Mr. Stoddart personated Mr. Potter with his usual whim, and Mss Louisa Moore and Miss Emily Mestayer, as Mrs. Mildmay and Mrs. Sterabola respectively, were very acceptable in their parts. Upon the whole, however, the performance last night was extremely enjoyable, and was thoroughly appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to witness it. "Still Waters Rin Deep" will be repeated, on Saturday evening, with the same cast. beep" will be the same cast.

PARK THEATRE, BROOKLYN .- A new piece was produced at this house last night, entitled "Checkmate." The authorship belongs to Andrew Halli day. It is a comedy of a very light, livery and amusing character, and kept the audience in the picasantest vein of good humor from beginning to end. The principal parts were played—and very well played—by Miss Jennie Carrol, Miss Marie Bates, Mr. E. Lamb and Mr. Mark Bates. It is one of those cheerful, pretty comedictias that come into our theatrical programmes now and then to emiven the routine of dramatic dreariness. The melodrama of "The Miller and His Men" followed the comedy—a romantic, ratiling, musical piece, that afforded a very good opportunity for the display of the versatile and talented company which Mrs. Comway has always at the command of the Brooking public, and which, with the able assistance of herself and Mr. Conway, serves to make the Park theatre so popular.

LECTURES LAST NIGHT.

"Whitin and Saima"-Lecture by Mr. De

Cordova.

Actuated doubtless by motivesjof curiosity a large, appreciative and attentive audience assembled last evening at Steinway Hali anxious to learn the issue of the matrimonial difficulties between "Whirfin and Sniffin" as a breach of marriage case presented by Mr. De Cordova. Young ladies, escorted by sincere Institute last evening to hear the first lecture of the season by this popular lecturer. The subject was "Lights and Shadows of London Life," and was resided in the masterly and humorous way peculiar to Mr. Gough. The audience were in a state of excitement and taughter the whole evening, and few but feit sorry when the lecture, which was a very lengthy one, was concluded. The first part of the lecture consisted of a description of high life in London and of the poor of the city. The lecturer spoke at length of the numerous institutions and organizations which were in active operation for the purpose of rescuing the unfortunate classes from the crime and unisery in which so many of them are forced to exist. He spoke particularly of the purpose of the city to foliow his example.

In speaking of the present position of affairs between the two countries the lecturer quoted some lines written by John Bright in his album, in which he spoke with great warmth of the institutions of this country.

On Sunday evening the steam yacht Anna, formerly owned by Ortson Blumt, Supervisor, of New Y ork, arrived at Newburg, on the Hudson, from New York, closely followed by the revenue cutter W. H. Seward, under the command of Lieutenant Raiston, United States Navy. The Anna is schooler Figged, of seventy-one tons burden, and was registered among the transfers last week at the New York Custom House, the amount received for her being $10,000. It is stated that the Seward has been for some days past watching her, as there are Suspictons that she has been sold to the Cubans, and is only waiting for a chance to put out to sea. The Anna is anchored off the wharf of the Washington from Works, and evidently has a heavy cargo, as she lies deep in the water. Only four or five men are seen on her decks. The Seward lies at anchor in the river of the plen for the Pennsylvanha Coal Company, about half a mile south of the Anna, She has a crew of forty-one men. On both vessels steam is kept up constantly. The Anna is an interior sailer and could easily be overhanied by the Seward were she to attempt an except.

The Wall Street Gold Pedlers Still "At It"-A Championship Swearing Contest on the Tapis-Committal of Charles C. Allen for Perjury. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Charles C. Allen, broker, Wall street, residing at 118 West Thirty-first street, was brought up in custody of Captain Jourdan before Judge Dowling, at the Tombs Police Court, charged, on the complaint of James Fisk, Jr., with wilful and corrupt perjury in the Court of Common Pleas. The detailed particulars of the offence will be found in the following amdavit:-

wiful and corrupt perjury in the Court of Common Pleas. The detailed particulars of the offence will be found in the following anidavit:—

City and County of New York.—James Fisk, Jr., being sworts, says that he has heard read the anidavit of Charles C. Alleu in an action brought in the Court of Common Pleas for the city and county of New York, wherein Oriando W. Josiya and John Y. Hostwick are plainting, and Wilham Wrath, James W. Ellis, Charles G. Quincey, Jay Goodd and James Fisk, Jr., are defendants; which adidavit is sworn to on the 24th of September, 1sod, before James Betts Metealf, notary public, and that the following portion of said adidavit is false;— Deponent thereupon informed Mr. Fisk that he did not do any business for and would not give up Beiden & Co. (as his principals), but would be pleased to give up Heath & Co.; Mr. Fisk thea turned to Charles E. Quincey, who was standing by, and who had neard the conversation, and said. 'Is that all right, Charles' to which said Quincey replied by saying to deponent, 'Yes, that is all right; give us up,' whereupon deponent placed the initials 'H. & Co.' then and there upon the said order before given him; that said Allen did not at that time, or any other time, inform or state to Mr. Fisk that he did do any business, and would not give up Beiden & Co. as his principals, but would be pleased to give up Heath & Co., nor did he state any words of like tenor or effect; that Charles E. Quincey was not then believed, or supposed by defendant to be, and was not actually, as actendant verily believes, a member of the Brim of Heath & Co.; that the said Allen is a stranger to deponent, and he does not remember eyer having seen him, and that deponent is confident that he did not on that day of September have any communication or conversation wan deponent that he did not on that any of September have any communication or conversation wan deponent that be did not on that any of September have any communication or conversation wan deponent that such affaired with the re

Allen and waived his examination at this court and claimed his right to be sent before the Grand Jury. He was then committed to the General Sessions, and his ball was fixed by Judge Dowling at $5,000, which was given by Mr. Edward Livermore, of 299 Madison avenue, and Mr. Allen was released from custody.

KNIGHTS OF THE SCREWS.

Captain Petty, of the Fifth ward-one of the most indefatigable police officials of the city, by the way-reports that on the night of the 19th ultimo the clothing store of S. Morris, No. 153 West Broadway, was entered from the rear by burglars, who proceeded to the upper floors, and after rading through the building left with three evercosts and one jacket, valued at $150. The culprits escaped.

Diamond Robbery-Seven Thousand Dollars'

Worth Stolen.
The burglars who practice upon the banks, stores, sates and residences of the populace do not confine themselves to the use of the jimmey and screw. Occasionally, when opportunities offer, they resort to what is known in police parlance as the 'sneak game." The last case of this kind reported comes from Captain Barden, of the Twenty-ninth It appears that on Sunday evening the family of and Sniffin" as a breach of marriage case presented by Mr. De Cordova. Young lauies, escorjed by sincere and gainant cavaliers were present in large force to acquaint themselves of the proceedings. The famous Bardeli trail was so well known that a change of yeane was requisited m order to impair novely to the Bugation. With that tack which has characterized Mr. De Cordova's humorous productions, the matter was repetered local and was admirably carried out. Smilln was spince though electry insurance clerk, partial to patent leather boots. His introduction to the Whith in family was achieved by his own gallantry in having assisted Miss Whilm to rise from the pavement to which, while in company with her mainma, she had been suddenly attracted. Thenceforth he visited the house in Madison street, not, as its supposed, in the character of a Romeo, but as a debtor naving, in the exercise of his generosity, become indebted to Mrs. Whidin for the purchase of some arutea for her daughter's sprain. After unsuccessful efforts to pay the debthe abandoned the cause, but was somewhat astounded in finding muself sued for breach or promise, the damages being laid at $20,000. A trend finally intervened and Mr. Sniffle's marriage with the old lady herself brings matters to a happy conclusion. Mr. De Cordova was perfectly at home throughout the various phases of the proceedings and clinited much applause.
